

Mrs Clay's Y5 Thursday Maths Task: 14th May

Consolidating our Learning about Fractions:

I have uploaded two files for your maths learning tasks today. I know that you have been revisiting fractions with White Rose this week and so the tasks I have set will help you to consolidate your understanding of converting between improper fractions and mixed numbers and vice versa (something that always benefits from a bit more practice).

You will need to complete one page from 'Y5 Maths Thursday 14th May Sheet 1' and one page from 'Y5 Maths Thursday 14th May Sheet 2'. Each PDF contains 3 different levels of work: please choose which one page you will complete in each PDF based on your confidence level: choose from D, E or GD (look at the bottom of each page for the letter, the sheets appear in order of challenge).

Answer the questions in your book then ask an adult to mark your work (the answers are on the final page of each PDF). As an aside, I never expect worksheets to be printed out: record the answers however best suits in your book.

Mrs. Clay ☺
