Come and join us as we explore books and read for pleasure. Our main focus will be on the beautiful world around us - 'Laudato Si' - our common home.

Each week, I will share a book with you, that has our beautiful natural world as inspiration. I will also be posting the latest resources that are available for you to continue enjoying books (of all types) whilst you are at home. In return, you can share a book that you have enjoyed. Perhaps you would like to film yourself reading some of it, and send the video to me? Or maybe you'd just like to recommend a book to your peers. Remember to say why you'd recommend it. We might also do a challenge or 2 too!

If you would like to feature in our book gallery please send your book recommendations (best to send a photo of you with the book, plus a few sentences of why you'd recommend it) or your reading videos (please don't use your name in any videos that you send me, for safeguarding reasons) to Mrs Willgoose at year3@holy-family.surrey.sch.uk

Enjoy!

The Hay Digital Festival 2020

The Hay Digital Festival took place between the 18th to the 31st May, which means we have lots of great resources at our fingertips to use! How exciting. I aim to share these with you here. Enjoy!

Event S1—Cressida Cowell—The Wizards of Once: Knock Three Times

Prepare to be inspired by Waterstones Children's Laureate Cressida Cowell. She'll chat about her Children's Laureate Charter, her latest book The Wizards of Once: Knock Three Times and How to Train Your Dragon (also a film and TV franchise). Cressida will also give writing and illustration tips – we need the authors and illustrators of the future!

There are plenty of other videos and resources for you to use though. All Events listed below are suitable for Key Stage 2. Click on the links to explore.

Others are for Key Stage 3 and 4 children, so please don't click on those links!
